Filming trips

Adventure Ascent has been helping many film production companies creating filming projects such as documentaries, hollywood movies and reality TV series. The founder and owner Pemba Sherpa has extensive experience himself when it comes to movie business, working as an actor in the hollywood movie "Everest" from 2015. Parts of the hollywood movie was shot in Kathmandu and the Everest region which was organized by Adventure Ascent. That included logistics of film crew and filming equipment, permits for filming, helicopters for transportation, food and accomodation etc. Pemba has also done training as a video photographer and has helped in filming in various documentaries about Nepal, Patle and Everest shown in brasilian Television and is availible on YouTube. In 2019, we arranged for a whole film team to climb Louche Peak while making a reality TV series for Swedish television. We can organize everything that is needed to do filming projects in Nepal. Using equipment like video camera and drones requires special permits from the nepali goverment and we have good knowledge in arranging all papers needed to make you able to focus on the filming. We can also provide guides with filming experience if needed.
