Patle Pikey EBC Heli trek

The Patle and Pikey Peak trip with the Everest Base Camp Helicopter tour is going to be one of the most popular eco-treks in Nepal. Adventure Ascent has great experience organizing trips with customizable itineraries and programs in this region. This trip is well suited for families and trekking groups who have a great interest in local culture and the lifestyle of the countryside people as well as enjoying the wonderful nature that Nepal has to offer. Compared to the upper Everest region, this trail is less crowded, providing a stronger connection to nature. Patle village and the Pikey area is a culturally rich trekking route where you can see ancient monasteries, Buddhist Mani walls and Stupas. On a clear day, we can witness the magnificent views of Mount Everest 8848m, Kanchenjunga 8586m, Makalu 8485m, Ama Dablam 6812m, Mera Peak 6470m, Gauri Shanker 7134m and Numbur Himal to the North and deep valleys dropping away into the clouds to the South from Pikey Peak at 4060m. Sir Edmund Hillary has claimed the view of Everest from Pikey Peak to be his favourite. We are embarking on a weeklong trek that starts with a picturesque 40-minute helicopter ride to the village of Patle, situated at an elevation of 2600m. In Patle, you will get a chance to immerse yourself in the fascinating Sherpa culture. Staying with a Sherpa family is the perfect way to savour the local cuisine and drinks, listen to the traditional music, witness the authentic lifestyle, and hear captivating histories from the locals. During our stay in Patle, we will visit the local school founded by Expeditionsresor and constructed under the leadership of Pemba Sherpa. To date, numerous individuals and organizations have contributed donations and funding towards the completion of the construction of two school buildings equipped with classrooms, a computer room, a kitchen, restrooms, and a playground for the children. You will have the opportunity to see several ongoing infrastructure development projects, meet with students and teachers, and distribute school materials. After our stay in Patle, we will trek to the top of Pikey Peak from where we will view the sunrise. During our trek, we will visit the Thupten Choling monastery. This is a Tibetan Buddhist Monastery that was founded by His Holiness Trulsik Ringboche in the 1960s, after fleeing Tibet. It is a celibate community where you can witness traditional monk dances twice a year, as per the Buddhist calendar. The combination of stunning natural landscapes, rich cultural experiences, and a sense of personal accomplishment, along with the welcoming hospitality of the Nepalese people in the Himalayan region, make the Patle, Peak Everest Base Camp helicopter trek one of the most memorable treks in the world.
